SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS. The Intelligencer affects to see indications of unbrotherly alienation between the Siamese twins of the Chronicle and the Press from the different tone of the two papers in editorial comment upon Schalk's criticisms of Hooker's late campaign.

The Chronicle thinks nothing more wanted to demonstrate the sentiment of the northern people against the recognition at any time or under any circumstances of the Southern Confederacy than the recent disayowal on the part of Fernando Wood of his being in favor of an immediste and unconditional peace, and regards it as a great tribute to a free people that this bold bad man thus humbles himself to the majesty of public opinion.

OUR MILITARY BUDGET

OUR DEAD AND WOUNDED. Information from the Army of the Potomac states that our wounded in the late battles who are within our lines are all being admirably cared for, and that the enemy, while they refuse to permit any person to visit our wounded yet in their hands, promise to send them over to us as soon as possible.

The Secretary of War has necessarily directed that while the Army of the Potomac remains in its present position no passes shall be granted to persons to visit it with the view of obtaining the bodies of deceased friends.

CAPTURE OF A BLOCKADE RUNNER. Capt. Chas. S. Boggs, commanding the U. S. steamer Sacramento, reports that on the night of the 1st instant he captured in the vicinity of the entrance to Wilmington, N. C., the English schooner Wanderer, from Nassau, while endeavoring to run the blockade. She was cleared for Beautort, N. C., and was loaded with sait

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Congratulatory Orders from Gen. Hooker-Rebel Loss Stated at 18,000 Killed and Wounded-5,000 Prisoners Captured-Return of the Wounded.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, May 11 .- The following order has been issued: Headquarters Army of the Potomac, May 6 .-General Order, No. 49.—The Major General commanding tenders to the army his congratulations on its achievements of the last seven days. If it has not accomplished all that was expected, the reasons are well known to the army. It is sufficient to say that they were of a character not to be foreseen or prevented by human sagacity or resources.

In withdrawing from the south side of the Rappahannock before delivering general battle to our adversaries, the army has given renewed evidences of its confidence in itself and its fidelity to the principles it represents. In fighting at a disadvantage we would have been recreant to our trust, to ourselves, our cause and our country. Profoundly loyal and conscious of its strength, the Army of the Potomac will give or decline battle whenever its interest or honor may demand. It will also be the guardian of its own history and its own arm. By our celerity and secrecy of movement our advance and passage of the rivers was undisputed, and on our withdrawal not a rebel ventured to follow.

The events of the last week may swell with pride the hearts of every officer and soldier of this army. We have added new luster to its former renown. We have made long marches, crossed rivers, surprised the enemy in his intrenchments, and wherever we have fought have inflicted heavier blows than we have

We have taken from the enemy five thousand prisoners, fifteen colors captured, and brought off seven pieces of artillery, placed hors du combat eighteen thousand of his chosen troops, destroyed his depots filled with vast amounts of stores, deranged his communications, captured prisoners within the fortifications of his capitol, and filled his country with fear and

We have no other regret than that caused by the loss of our brave companions; and in this we are consoled by the conviction that they have fallen in the holiest cause ever submitted to the arbitrament of battle. By command of Maj.Gen. Hooker.

S. WILLIAMS, Ass't Adj't Gen. Recovery and Care of the Wounded. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, May 11 .- Dr. Binkley, medical director, in charge of our wounded on the battle-field, report that they are all comfortable, and are about

A DELIGHTPUL SUMMER RESORT.-It is strange that our fellow-citizens who take their families to the country or sea side during the summer months do not turn their attention to Cambridge, Md, on the Eastern Shore. It contains about 2,500 inhabitants, and is as beautifully shaded as Saratoga, while its humerous private gardens ornament it everywhere with delightful flowers, so that in the season it resembles Florida land rather than other villages in this latitude. It is directly upon the bank of a noble river, stocked with fine oysters, soft crabs, fish of all descriptions &c., and has every facility for salt water bathing without charge. Besides, the roads in its vicinity are the best we ever saw for pleasure driving, being level and hard. The prices charged in Cambridge for board, as for all the river and land delicacies of living, are much lower than such things are to be had for elsewhere, while access to it is by a very fine line of steamers, plying three times a week from Baltimore, (touching at Annapolis and West River.) Take it all in all Cambridge is the place which families in this region should patronize as a sammer resort.

THREE O'CLOCK P. M.

LATE FROM GRANT'S ARMY. A REBEL ROOBBACK EXPLODED.

A telegram was received here to-day from Gen. Grant, dated the 6th inst., when his force was on the Big Black. He says nothing whatever of having had an engagement on the day when, according to a rebel telegram we published a day or two stace, he was alleged to have been repulsed. The tenor of his later despatch above mentioned justifies the impression that all had gone on well with his operations up to that time; the latest period to which he has been heard from either directly or through the Richmond newspapers.

The affair of the 6th, magnified by the Richmond papers' dispatch (of the 5th, from Jackson, Miss.) was doubtless one of pickets; too unimportant to be mentioned by Gen. Grant. The fact that the Richmond papers of later date than the 5th make no further mention of such repulse shows that there was nothing whatever in it.

DEATH OF STONEWALL JACKSON. While all admirers of chivalrous courage and earnest devotion (to even a bad cause) must pay a tribute of earnest and deep respect to the memory of Stonewall Jackson, that feeling at the South must be blended with the despairing certainty that his place cannot approximately, even, be filled.

He was Lee's right arm, perhaps the best executive officer that the world eversaw; and the Confederate writer who said that his leadership on the battle-field was worth fifty thousand men to the rebel cause was not much exaggerating the actual fact.

Thus one by one the props to the sinking Confederate cause fall away and make its cause more hopelessly desperate!

D'UTASSY COURT-MARTIAL. The defence closed to-day, and the testimony may be said to be substantially at an end. It is probable that before entering upon the argument the court will take a recess for a few days, in order te allow time for preparation. During the session of the court 26 witnesses for the prosecution and 57 for the defence have been examined, making in all 83.

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC. Governor Curtin, of Pennsylvania, who has been spending a few days with the army has just returned. He found the army in good order, and not at all dispirited by its retrograde movement. All are eager for another conflict with the enemy and confident of success. The wounded, the Governor reports, are excellently cared for-everything possible for their comfort being attended to.

EXCHANGED The Navy Department to-day received information from the proper authorities at Fortress Monroe, that the officers and men of the following vessels (who had from time to time been made prisoners by the rebels,) have been declared exchanged, viz: Of the steamers Hatteras, Mercedita, Queen of the West, Harriet

Lane, Isaac Smith, Columbia, and the schooner

LOCAL NEWS:

THE FUGITIVE SLAVE CASE .- This morning there was a pretty large attendance at the Supreme Court of the District, it being generally understood that a decision would be made in the case of the boy Andrew Hall, claimed by G. W. Duvall of George, of Prince George's county, as his slave. Chief Justice Cartter said that it was impossible for the Court to review the whole arguments in relation to the question of human freedom which have been elaborated for the last century, and it was not for the Court to review or pronounce upon the constitutionality of laws passed by Congress which have heretofore been decided upon in superior courts. He repudiated the doctrine that they (the Supreme Court) had the right to reverse the opinions on laws already pronounced by superior courts. The Supreme Court had decided the laws for the rendition of fugitives from labor to be constitutional, and other branches of the Government-the executive and legislative-had held to that doctrine. In the course of his remarks, Chief Justice Cartter said that one thing was certain no man can be arrested and returned to a disloyal master. The institution of slavery involves a nation's life struggle, and has sent some of the best men of the country to premature graves; but the law will be executed, because it is in the bonds. These men who own the kind of property are apparently dead to that the of the country, and would give it for a tero; although there are honorable exceptions. It was not to be disguised that the blood shed is on the altar of this institution. Justice Wylie stated that he issued the warrant under which the party was arrested and put into prison, to await rendition to his master. A writ of habeas corpus had been sued out, and the questions involved had been discussed Although he had issued the warrant, he had come to the conclusion that he had no authority to cause the man to be arrested, and though the man ought to be discharged for want of jurisdiction. He did not think that the powers heretofore conferred on the Chief Justice of the Circuit Court were conferred on the Associate Justices of this Court.

Justice Olin said his conviction was that all powers heretofore held by other courts had been transferred to this court. The Chief Justice of the Circuit Court had been the properly designated party to execute the law, and it was to be decided whether the justices of this court assessed the same powers. He would prefer to hear these points further argued. The Court consented to hear further arguments on Wednesday next at 3 o'clock.

UNPROVOKED ASSAULT AND BATTERY .-Yesterday afternoon, as Mr. Sykes, of the firm of Sykes, Chadwick & Co., proprietors of the Willard Hotel, was conversing with some gentlemen, in front of his establishment, he was assaulted by a hackman named Digney, who abased him with profane and insulting language. Mr. Sykes walked away to call a policeman, when Digney came up behind him, and turning him partially around, deatt him a blow in the face before Mr. Sykes could pre-pare to defend himself; Digney then started away as soon as possible, aided in his temporary escape by Geo. Weaver, also a hackman.

Digney and Weaver were arrested afterwards, and placed in the Second Ward station, and this morning held to bail for further hearing this afternoon before Justice Clayton. It seems that Digney took offence to the fact that the hotel sends for backs to the stables of S. C. & E. Wroe, when its guests ask at the office for them. The driver, Geo. Weaver, with whom Digney left his coach, was arrested yesterday, and was carried before Justice Clayton, who fined him $2.58 for violating a city ordinance by running a back without a number. The promptitude and energy displayed by Patrolman Michael Healey in the discharge of his duty in arresting the offenders in this case, is worthy of praise. THE DEAD HEROES .- Col. Franklin Nortons 123d New York, shot in the abdomen while gallantly leading his regiment at Chancellorsville, died yesterday at Mrs. Mannings, on Thirteenth street, and his body was embalmed by Drs. Brown and Alexander, and sent to his late home at Union village, Washington county, New York. The bodies of Capt. Alex. Gordon, 7th Wisconsin, and Lieut, Hiram Rowe, 16th Massachusetts regiment, have also been embalmed and sent home by Drs. Brown and Alexander. GOVERNMENT PROPERTY FOUND .- The residence of a Mr. Stykes, near Glenwood Cemedence of a Mr. Stykes, hear Glenwood Cemetery, was searched yesterday and a large lot of Government property found. ing on Sunday.

J. Baier's lager beer garden, at the corner of A street north and Sixth street east, was also closed for the same offense, and Baier fined

John Muntz's bar closed and liquor confiscated for selling to soldiers. Mrs. Peterson's, on B street, Capitol Hill, was permanently closed for the same reason. Noa, opposite Petersons, for the same offence

NOT A VERY CREDITABLE TRICK .- We hear that the names of the various prominent gentlemen announced to speak at the Richards' meeting last night, (but who were not present we need hardly say,) were so announced without their authority or knowledge. Representations were made to others that it was only the regular weekly meeting of the Union League they we're expected to address, and when these gentlemen learned its real purpose, i. c. to abuse good Union men, and as capable officers as the country has, in the persons of Messrs. Dixon, Douglas and Forsyth, they promptly declined to have anything whatever to do with the mat-

FIRST APPEARANCE OF THE NEGRO SOL-DIERS.—Company I of the colored regiment of this District made their appearance on our streets this forenoon. They numbered some forty or fifty, and wore a red, white and blue badge. Some of them, however, in addition to the badge, wore also a cockade composed of the same colors. They seemed to bear their honors well, notwithstanding the derisive remarks they met with as they marched alongcoming in several instances from those of their own color. Their drillmaster-as we presumea colored man, seemed to appreciate the dignity of his position to the fullest.

ACCIDENT TO THE ROPE WALKER.—About three o'clock this afternoon, as Mr. Harry Leslie was making his ascension from the Market House to the top of the Varieties, the stake to which the rope was attached patied out, and he was precipitated to the ground, a distance of about twenty feet. He was bruised about the head and one hand but not seriously. He will be able to appear again in a few days, probably. AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN. [Correspondence Evening Star.] GEORGTOWN, D. U., May 13, 1963.

The boatmen now arriving from above report the Potomac to be at a high stage, with a rapid current, and consequently give no credence to the reported rebel raid into Maryland. They neither heard or saw anything of the kind. Our coal wharves are fast filling up, and the coal companies are not now so anxious for the navigation on the canal to be kept open, forseeing clearly that, unless they can procure more vessels to ship their coal by river, their wharves will soon be so blocked that it will be impossible to find room to land it.

impossible to find room to land it.

The arrivals by river since my last are as follows:—Barge W. F. Moody, Henry, Aquia Creek, old wagons; barge J. J. Connor, Hagan, do., do.; schr.
